

Everyone wants the latest in make-up, and the stars swear by Dermacia's breathable foundation and skin care line. Perfect for active women, the foundation is light enough for a workout yet able to provide flawless coverage for a photo shoot, and will actually improve your skin. Recommended by "doctors and celebrities" (who do you trust more?), and previously available only through dermatologists, you can score your own free trial of Dermacia online at www.dermacia.com.

Oxygen Plus is a cool portable O₂ inhaler device. The mini tank provides 95% pure enriched oxygen flavored with peppermint, the essential ingredient in the conversion of fuel to energy in the human body. It's just what you'll need to squeeze out that extra mile on the treadmill – or replace your 3 pm coffee break at the office. www.oxygenplus.com.

Celebs queued up for the Style Lounge's premier SWAG jackpot: Fraxel laser skin rejuvenation treatments being done by Dr. Cameron Rokhsar, MD, FAAD, FAACS of The Cosmetic and Laser Skin Surgery Center of New York. Approved by the FDA to treat acne scarring, age spots, melasma and crows feet, Fraxel is the most advanced, non-invasive laser technology available today and much gentler than traditional laser treatment options. Dr. Rokhsar says to think of your skin as a digital photo with thousands of pixels, with Fraxel working to bring each individual pixel to perfection. You can learn more about Fraxel, or find a Fraxel dermatologist near you at www.fraxel.com. Dr. Rokhsar's website is www.cosmeticlaserskinsurgery.com.
